

Letter to the future

To all the future generations, I earnestly apologize
On behalf of all the people who currently colonize
Our planet, for we do not want to compromise
We'd rather die than renounce our consistent rise!

At what price? Don't worry, the earth will still be round
Only we will have burned every fossil in the ground
Eradicated a few species, but I'm declaring under oath
We're not willing to give up on our exponential growth!

Exponential growth is our one and only wisdom!
We have even applied it to our monetary system!
And since then, things have been doubling in size
Every once in a while, just like the oil price.

Like the economic output and the world's population,
The Polluting emissions or the eco devastation
We have concentrated the power of our nation
On keeping up with the pressure of inflation.

Every now and then we face depression or a crash
The extent of the next one is a question of math.
You might call that an irrational bet
We just call it our national debt

The immense expenses paying off the interest rates
Are amongst the highest in the so called „independent states“
Money is loaned into existence, created out of thin air not by our politicians, but by private banks- yeah!

Banksters, who take advantage of the system
Having money working for them and politicians with them
Applying the media to form our opinion,
Telling us to save money so that they can waste billions?!

They're brilliant! And nobody can restrain them
From mass manipulation, even the state can't!
They control education through entertainment
And form foreign relations with their payments.

Insane men determine the impacts that shape us
Throughout our lifes, we are constantly brainwashed!
They've blended us to a point where we chase paper

Not real values, just numbers on a statement!
