

Falling in Love

(Verse 1:)

Raindrops are falling on my head,
something is running down my face
and is dripping on my hand.

Is it me, is it you,
is it us? I don't care.
I guess that love was never really there.

(Chorus:)

Maybe I just loved the thought of us,
the thought of falling in love.
Of giving my heart away to someone
who will break it anyway.
Maybe I'm just not brave enough
to let you out of my heart.
To give it away to someone
who will love it someday.

(Verse 2:)

Stars are searching their way through the dark.
Feeling the cold ground underneath me
laying here save like in your arms.

Can still feel your touch on my waist,
sending shivers through my body,
never wanna let them go away.

(Chorus:)

But maybe I just loved the thought of us,
the thought of falling in love.
Of giving my heart away to someone
who will break it anyway.
Maybe I'm just not brave enough
to let you out of my heart.
To give it away to someone
who will love it someday.

(Bridge:)

In the end you just broke me,
like shattered glass I'm lying on the floor.
But shades are bringing luck,

so why aren't you standing on my door?

(Chorus:)

Maybe I just loved the thought of us,
the thought of falling in love.

Of giving my heart away to someone
who will break it anyway.

Maybe I'm just not brave enough
to let you out of my heart.

To give it away to someone
who will love it someday.

© Amy

Diese PDF wurde erstellt durch das Schreiber Netzwerk