

Art as millennial conversation

Language,
complex, like a panzer.
the usual gauge,
for the beauty of the dancer.
All that is pretty and fancy does not thank this to bureaucracy

Viciously violent vertebrates vibrate lungs, throat and finally air to communicate
fair and square as one hopes diplomatic solutions.

The art of keeping the enemy talking until your archers are in range.
You wants yours to keep walking to sustain your pleasures and stock exchange.
And yet all common dread is dullness and a table without bread.
